Instead of flying off the handle --! I hope you're happy I hope you're happy now I hope you're happy too I hope you're to me. Just say you're sorry! You can still be with The Wizard What you've worked and waited for You can have all you ever wanted - ELPHABA I know But I don't want it anymore Something has changed within me Something is not the same I'm through with playing by The rules of someone else's game Too late for second-guessing Too late to go back to sleep It's time to trust my instincts Close my eyes And leap... It's time to try defying gravity I think I'll try defying gravity And you can't pull me down GLINDA Can't I make you understand You're having delusions of grandeur? ELPHABA I'm through accepting limits Cuz someone says they're so Some things I cannot change But till I try I'll never know Too long I've been afraid of Losing love I guess I've lost Well if that's love It comes at much too high a cost I'd sooner buy defying gravity Kiss me goodbye, I'm defying gravity Kiss me goodbye, I'm defying gravity Kiss me goodbye, I'm defying gravity And you can't pull me down! Glinda, come with me. Think of what we could do - together! Unlimited Together we're unlimited Together we'll be the greatest team There's ever been - Glinda! Dreams the way we planned 'em GLINDA If we work in tandem GLINDA & ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I, defying gravity With you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I, defying gravity With you and I defying gravity With you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I, defying gravity With you and I defying gravity With you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity With you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravity ELPHABA There's no fight we cannot win Just you and I defying gravit hope your happy now that your choosing this - ELPHABA You too-- I hope it brings you bliss GLINDA & ELPHABA I really hope you're happy my friend ELPHABA So if you care to find me Look to the Western sky! As someone told me lately Everyone deserves the chance to fly And if I'm flying solo At least I'm flying free To those who ground me Take a message back from me! Tell them how I am defying gravity I'm flying high, defying gravity And soon I'll match them in renown And nobody in all of Oz No Wizard that there is or was Is ever gonna bring me down!! GLINDA I hope you're happy CITIZENS OF OZ Look at her She's wicked Get her!! ELPHABA Bring me down! CITIZENS OF OZ No one mourns the wicked So we got to bring her - ELPHABA Ahhhh! CITIZENS OF OZ --Down! Back to the main Wicked Lyrics page Or read more about Wicked at Wicked Broadway, Tour, and more "Defying Gravity" Comments and Meaning Notes from Carol de Giere, editor of The Schwartz Scene: About the meaning of Defying Gravity and Song Placement: Stephen Schwartz planned the first act climax of Wicked in his mind as he conceptualized the musical. He knew he'd write a musical number that expressed Elphaba's shift in perception about the Wizard, and her changed behavior. In the novel it happens quietly. In the musical it would have to be clear and bold. Early in the show's development, he stepped into the character and wrote a version of "Defying Gravity." Idina Menzel learned and sang it in the readings during the development process. It was always an audience thriller, even without any fancy staging. Menzel was able to enhance the song by bringing the final section up an octave from the original pitch Schwartz had written. [Photo by Joan Marcus is of Eden Espinosa singing "Defying Gravity."] The song represents Elphaba's transformation. She had grown up as a social outcast. She was the only green girl in Oz, and she longed for acceptance by her peers and for love from her father. To achieve this, she dreamed of being in close association with the great and powerful Wizard of Oz, achieving something good that Ozians would appreciate. But when we see her at the end of act I, she has woken up to other personal values. She cares about others, especially those who are downtrodden like her. So when she discovers that the Wizard is oppressing a certain segment of Ozian society, her dreams of associating with him are tested. During the song, she makes a resolution for a new direction in life. She decides that living with integrity is more important than being accepted. She no longer wants love if it "comes at much too high a cost." She also is taking ownership of her latent magical talent. She makes use of magic to defy gravity in the physical sense and fly off, above the crowds. IDINA MENZEL Comments on the Meaning of "Defying Gravity," why do you think so many people respond to that song? Idina Menzel: At some point in our lives, I think all of us feel that we're weird or different. I know I can be very self-conscious about who I am and how I'm perceived. And it's at that moment in the show that [Elphaba] decides, "I'm going to do this differently now. I'm gonna stop carring about what people think and just embrace who I am. F k what anybody else thinks." She's our hero because she stands up and does it. There's also the other aspect that as a woman, it's sometimes hard to be really fierce and strong. You want to be kick-ass, and yet as women we're sometimes afraid we'll be perceived as a bitch. The while not fearing her strength. I'm so thankful that I had that show because I could live in her world and be as powerful as I wanted. GREGORY MAGUIRE'S NOVEL: Wicked Lover: "I continue to get chills, as I first did in the theater, every time I replay Defying Gravity. It's currently my all-time favorite song from any musical ever. And that's saying something, as I've loved music well and brought the magic show to life in my head long before I finally found the songs recorded. So my question is - at what point did Defying Gravity come into being? Was it one of the original songs, written from the start? Did it replace an earlier something? I've seen shows evolve and it's interesting how sometimes the best songs are last minute additions to the show. So I'd love to know the history of that one. It's just FANTASTIC. AMAZING. INSPIRING. Tell me all about it! Answer from Stephen Schwartz: "Dear WICKED lover: Thanks for your message, and obviously, I'm delighted by your enthusiasm for the show." just the first act in the fall of 2000 (it was written in the summer of 2000.) It is the only song I wrote for the end of the first act (unlike other spots in the show for which I wrote several numbers). The hardest thing about the writing process was arriving at the title, but once I did, the song flowed pretty quickly and easily, and the basic song itself hasn't ever really changed; the lyrics in the final show are the originals, as is the tune and accompaniment. But the surrounding material ("I hope you're happy") evolved over time, and during our readings, Glinda became more involved, as in the chorus where the girls sing in harmony or her line "if we work in tandem", which used to be Elphaba's. (This may be more detail than you wanted, but I thought I would answer fully.) Thanks again for taking the time to write, Stephen Schwartz made up to use before "Defying Gravity" - Levitation Spell: AHBEN TAHKAY, AHBEN TAH and Wicked From Terri K. of McHenry Illinois My interest in "Wicked" stems from when I was a child and always wondered why the 'wicked' witch was thought to be so bad - she was the one character that I had always wanted to know more about. I always thought to be so bad - she was the one character that I had always wondered why the 'wicked' witch was thought to be so bad - she was the one character that I had always wanted to know more about. stayed with her. Last year for my birthday, my friend took me to see the show in Chicago. When we left the show, I told my friend that being like Barbie is so passe - if girls want a role model, it should be Elphaba. She is strong, loving, smart, and can do magic, plus at the end, she gets the guy. What more can you ask for? This year, I took my two teenaged daughters to see it. The best part of that experience was seeing each of them identifying with the two witches. I have to tell you that my favorite song from the show is "Defying Gravity". I love the message of the song, that no matter what anyone says or does, Elphaba is going to live by her own code of conduct, find out what she is really capable of doing, and to make herself happy, not others. It is a very strong and positive message that I have adopted as my own personal 'theme song'. From Colby of Eagle Grove, Iowa: "What I love about Wicked is the song Defying Gravity, how she flys in the air. Makes me break into tears everytime..." From BW of Northridge, California: My interest in Wicked is actually enormous, it is actually the musical that caused me to want to become a musical writer, I was never interested before that, but after I loved it so much and it inspired me so much, I decided that I wanted to do the same for other people. I'm sure everyone says this, or you hear it frequently, but "Defying Gravity" is literally my favorite song ever created, no exaggeration. Now that is a big thing because most people I know, previously myself included, can't even decide what their favorite song is because there are so many good ones, but this is one that surpassed everything I'd ever heard by far. Also, Wicked is my favorite work of art I've ever seen, and I don't say that lightly, I've seen more movies than most people, and seen and performed my fair share of plays, this easily "rises above" any of those, and is truly a beautiful piece of art. From Erin of Charlotte NC: A friend introduced me to Wicked around 2 years ago. I listened to the song Defying Gravity, and was completely stirred by shivers, it was phenomenal! I am a die hard Wicked fan! I sat my family down one night to listen to For Good, Defying Gravity and No Good Deed, and my dad whose is so critical. was speechless. It was amazing and nothing would please me more than to be chosen. Thank you! And amazing job!! From Carla M. of Michigan: A few years ago I had to divorce my husband. Then my ex stopped paying child support. I went from living a comfortable life to being a single mother on welfare. Then I was diagnosed with cancer, so as well as trying to make ends meet and provide a sense of security for my three young children, I was fighting for my life. I can not tell you how much the song "Defying Gravity" helped me during this very difficult time. The song has become my personal anthem. It brings me strength every day.
